

PRESS RELEASE

PAUL GILBERT AND THE BOOK PEOPLE – MAKING A DIFFERENCE TO THOSE WHO NEED IT MOST

Paul Gilbert is a bookseller with a difference. Through his work with the Book People he not only brings books into offices, schools and other workplaces throughout the local area, he also raises money for charity through events run in conjunction with Anglian Water.

Paul visits Anglian Water five times a year to hold book sales which are not only popular with members of staff but raise money and awareness for the charity WaterAid at the same time.

WaterAid enables the world's poorest people to gain access to safe water, sanitation and hygiene education. Together these underpin health, education and livelihoods and form the first, essential step in overcoming poverty. One in eight people don't have safe water to drink, but WaterAid's excellent work is helping to change this situation. So far, they have helped nearly eleven million people in Africa, Asia and the Pacific region, and with the support of people like Paul they are able to help even more. See www.WaterAid.org.uk for more details on the charity.

The Book People's book sales at Anglian Water raise around £400 a year for the charity, which is gratefully received. Included in this press release a photograph of Paul Gilbert handing over this year's cheque to Sally Brown, who coordinates Anglian Water's WaterAid events, whose details are included below.

If any readers would like Paul to visit their work place to offer them not only a great selection of books at fantastic prices but a chance to raise money for their favourite charity too, they should call him on 07882 903749.
